

WELCOME TO TONIGHT'S PUBLIC WORKSHOP

Thank you for your interest in transit choices for your community.

Tonight you will begin to shape a vision for the Richmond region's transit future. We will review the universe of transit options, from demand responsive transit to fixed route bus to light rail, and report on research about the value of transit to our region. We will review the relationship between land use and transit types and listen to your thoughts on the future of transit in the region.

We welcome you to learn more about the study at our various information stations, interact with our planning staff and help shape a vision for our transit future.
